Platypus Matakupay Mallangong Tambreet Gaya-dari Boonaburra Lar-re-lar

Australia is home to diverse wildlife found nowhere else on Earth. The platypus is one of our most iconic animals. But there are less and less of them and this one-of-a-kind creature is now at risk of extinction.

We're running the platy-project to help platypus researchers understand more about how to protect this incredible animal - and calling on the government to create strong laws to better protect all of Australia's incredible plants and animals.
